

Personalized Breast Cancer Screening

At Invision Sally Jobe, we understand that your breast cancer risk is as unique as your shoe size. Although all women are at risk to develop breast cancer, some women are at a higher risk. This may be due to any of the following factors:

- Family history of cancer on either your mother or father’s side of the family
- Ashkenazi Jewish ancestry*
- Density of breast tissue when examined by a mammogram
- Personal history of breast cancer or other high risk breast lesions (often referred to as “atypical hyperplasia” or “LCIS”)

Women with any of these risk factors may wish to undergo a more detailed breast cancer risk assessment. This type of assessment is often done by a specialist, like a genetic counselor, who can analyze your risk factors in more detail and discuss options that might be applicable to you, including:

- Genetic testing for genes that affect your risk for breast and other types of cancer, and/or
- Additional technologies that are available to screen for breast cancer and can be used in addition to mammograms, such as:

- Breast MRI screening
- Screening breast ultrasound

At Invision Sally Jobe, we value and embrace your individuality...

... from your shoe size to your breast cancer risk. We are proud to work as a team with you and your referring doctors to develop a personalized breast cancer screening plan that fits you like a glove.

We understand that it can be frightening to face an increased risk for a disease like breast cancer. However, we also believe in empowering women to understand their options when it comes to health and wellness. Understanding your risk for cancer is the first step toward reducing that risk. Risk assessment is one of the first steps toward early detection and prevention of breast cancer.

What do I do next?

Talk with your physician about your risk factors and your desire to learn more about additional options to detect breast cancer early, if not prevent it altogether. You may also contact our Patient Coordination Care line at 720.493.3459 to ask questions via phone or schedule a visit with one of our board-certified genetic counselors.

*Jewish with ancestors from Eastern Europe, usually Germany, Poland, Lithuania, Ukraine, and Russia. Individuals with this type of ancestry are more likely to have a hereditary form of breast cancer.

*Mammograms matter...
every woman, every year!*

Insurance Coverage and Financial Concerns

Exams are most often covered by insurance, as long as they are clinically indicated. Please contact your insurance carrier if you have questions. We recognize that financial concerns may prevent some patients from seeking necessary healthcare exams. We pride ourselves on being sympathetic and flexible. We offer a dedicated financial navigator, as well as assistance with pre-authorization and any necessary insurance appeals after the exam is completed. If you have financial concerns or need additional guidance on how to speak with your insurance company about your exam, please call our Patient Care Coordination line.
